Question 1: Summarize Written Text

Read the passage below and summarize it using one sentence. Type your response in the box at the bottom of the screen. You have 10 minutes to finish this task. Your response will be judged on the quality of your writing and on how well your response presents the key points in the passage.

Asda:

Asda has become the first food retailer in the country to measure how much customers can save by cutting back on food waste, thanks to a Knowledge Transfer Partnership (KTP) with the University of Leeds. The idea behind the KTP was for the university, using Asda's customer insight data, to apply its research to identify, investigate and implement ways of helping customers to reduce their food waste. This was one of the first times that a major retailer had tried to deliver large-scale sustainability changes, with the two-year project seen as a way for Asda to position themselves as true innovators in this area. The campaign focused on providing customers with advice on everything from food storage and labeling, to creative recipes for leftovers. Meanwhile, in-store events encouraged customers to make changes in their own homes. In fact, two million customers have said they will make changes to how they deal with food waste in their own homes, leading to an average saving of 57 pounds per customer, as well as a reduction in waste. A key aspect of a KTP is that an associate is employed by the University to work in the firm and help deliver the desired outcomes of the KTP. As part of the collaboration with Asda, Laure Babb's was given the task of driving forward the sustainability changes in the retailer. As a result of the success of her work, Laura eventually became a permanent member of the team at Asda.

Question 2: Write Essay

A variety of factors have influenced society in the contemporary era. The building structure is one of them. Many people believe that well-built buildings can assist individuals in enhancing their productivity and quality of life. Some people, though, are opposed to it. A well-built structure, in my opinion, improves a person's mental and physical well-being. In the following paragraphs, I shall discuss my opinion and elucidate by giving supporting reasons.

People nowadays spend a lot of money on their homes and offices. When it comes to creating structures, one of the first things they think about is the design. The ambience and surroundings of a place impact people's cognitive and biological welfare, which is why many individuals prefer well-constructed buildings. A well-designed building also lowers health and safety hazards.

Moreover, a sturdy building can positively impact emotional functioning, psychological involvement, and personal control. One of the most critical areas where the building's architecture impacts is psychological prosperity. It promotes good feelings and gives individuals control over their surroundings, which improves performance.

Although it is undeniable that creating a well-designed structure necessitates a significant investment of time and money, and not everyone can afford it.

Overall, buildings have a direct impact on an individual's health. Individuals are less prone to become stressed and live a healthy lifestyle when they are in a pleasant atmosphere.
